I INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS FOR YOUNG RESEARCHERS ON AFRICA

After the end of the period of reception of proposals, from the Organizing Committee of the I International Congress of Young Researchers on Africa, which is part of the III CoDeS, together with the Nanou Ki Association, and in collaboration with the University of Valladolid, we present the information on the following issues:

- Place and date of celebration: the venue of the I International Congress of Young Researchers on Africa will be the Facultad de Filosofía y Letras of the University of Valladolid, and will take place on October 4, 2019. It will be held in three sessions (two in the morning and one in the afternoon) with simultaneous tables for the presentation of papers and subsequent debate.
- Registration: due to the fact that the I International Congress of Young Researchers on Africa is inserted within the III CoDeS there are two possibilities of participating in the Conference for attendants with communication:

- Without attending the rest of the congress (October 4, 2019):	36€
- Attending the rest of the congress (from 1 to 5 October 2019) with a 33% discount on the presentation at the academic congress:	24€ (+60€ III CoDeS entrance fee)

The 7th of May will be the opening date to register for the Academic Congress, the III CoDeS, or both, through the web page <http://codes.nanouki.com/es/inscripciones/inscripciones>. In the case of a communication with more than one author, both of them must be registered.

- Deadline for submission of final papers: the deadline for receipt of the final texts, once the abstracts of the papers have been accepted, is 15 July 2019. They must be sent to the following e-mail address: codes.academico@nanouki.com, receiving a subsequent notification of receipt from the organisation. Final texts should not exceed 6000 words (including bibliography). We remind you that the author must be registered before sending the full text. If the inscription has not been fulfilled, this text will not be taken into account.
- Rules for editing the final papers: The rules for editing the full text, as well as the document with the established format, will be available on the web in the coming days. We remind you again that texts that do not comply with the editing rules will be automatically rejected. We therefore urge you to adhere to the stipulations.
- Publication: the Scientific Committee will select, from the defended communications, those that present a higher academic level, as long as they are strictly adjusted to the rules of style, and will be published as a digital book chapter with ISBN by the Publications Service of the University of Valladolid. Since the objective is to generate a quality publication, it is requested that the texts sent are unpublished. Proposals that do not meet these requirements will be rejected. There is also the possibility of collecting part of the communications defended in a book in paper format with a publisher of recognized prestige in Spain.
- Presentations at the Congress: Papers must be defended by their author(s). Each communicator will have between 10-12 minutes (depending on the number of participants in each panel) to present a summary of their work. During the subsequent debate, they will be able to make a broader defence of their allegations. Apart from that, all the communicators who attend the Congress will receive a diploma accrediting their participation.

During the coming weeks the Third Newsletter will be published specifying the list of accepted proposals for the celebration of the I International Congress of Young Researchers on Africa and the tables where each one is framed. In the same way, the website <http://codes.nanouki.com/> will soon contain all the information regarding transport and accommodation for their arrival and stay in the city of Valladolid.
